A Note From Fr. Jim Kinney

The question that should logically occur to us when we hear about Christ, both human and divine, is: what did Christ know and when did he know it? Today's gospel of Matthew gives us some clues. Jesus accepting baptism from John the Baptist might have put some apologists on the defensive for his having no need for baptism since he was without sin. Yet Jesus, the God-man, needed both natures to be able to cleanse us from our sins, being both perfect and also human, and, therefore, the perfect sacrifice for all of humanity's sins.

Jesus was also, as Isaiah would suggest, a most obedient servant who was led day-by-day by God's Spirit and rather than having a plan and sticking to it, he grasped the freedom to respond to the needs of the moment as a sign of God's love with no other agenda. It is fair to say that Jesus was evolving into his own true self throughout his lifetime and beyond. With all that in mind, we can interpret his deep identification with us in all that is human --- including in his desire to discern and carry out God's design in unforeseeable circumstances.

Let us remember that we are baptized into him, to share the grace of his approach to life. The Spirit may not descend upon us like a dove, but that Spirit enables us to share Jesus' freedom and to love in the ways our moment calls forth. For most Catholics, baptized as infants, this sacrament is easy to forget or trivialize or to see only in the past, when in truth it is something, we are invited to live in each day anew. We should not forget that we, like Jesus, are beloved and well pleasing to God.

Blessings, Fr. Jim

Saint of the Day: Hilary of Poitiers January 13

Born to wealthy polytheistic, pagan nobility, Hilary's early life was uneventful as he married, had children (including Saint Abra), and studied on his own. Through his studies he came to believe in salvation through good works, then monotheism. As he studied the Bible for the first time, he literally read himself into the faith, and was converted by the end of the New Testament. Hilary lived the faith so well he was made bishop of Poitiers, France from 353 to 368. Hilary opposed the emperor's attempt to run Church matters, and was exiled; he used the time to write works explaining the faith. His teaching and writings converted many, including Saint Florence of Poitiers, and in an attempt to reduce his notoriety he was returned to the small town of Poitiers where his enemies hoped he would fade into obscurity. His writings continued to convert pagans. He introduced Eastern theology to the Western Church, fought Arianism with the help of Saint Viventius, and was proclaimed a Doctor of the Church in 1851. Born: 315 at Poitiers, France Died: 368 of natural causes Canonized: Pre-Congregation

Ask A Franciscan: I recently saw a death notice that read, "A Funeral Mass celebrating Ray's life will begin...." That sounds to me like a non-Catholic notice. Aren't we supposed to mourn when a family member, friend or acquaintance dies?

The Catholic Church refers to the "Mass of Christian Burial." The emphasis here is on the link between the Sacraments of Baptism/Confirmation/Eucharist and this person's death. The 1989 Order of Christian Funerals specifies that homilists are not to give a eulogy but rather should "dwell on God's compassionate love and on the paschal mystery of the Lord as proclaimed in the Scripture readings." Family members may offer brief remarks after Holy Communion and before the Final Commendation. We grieve for the deceased, but we often see in their earthly lives a foretaste of the eternal life they now experience.

Father Pat McCloskey, OFM

Información de comunidad Español

La pregunta que lógicamente debería ocurrirnos cuando escuchamos hablar de Cristo, tanto humano como divino, es: ¿qué supo Cristo y cuándo lo supo? El evangelio de Mateo de hoy nos da algunas pistas. El hecho de que Jesús aceptara el bautismo de Juan el Bautista podría haber puesto a algunos apóstoles a la defensiva por no necesitar el bautismo ya que no tenía pecado. Sin embargo, Jesús, el Dios-hombre, necesitaba ambas naturalezas para poder limpiarnos de nuestros pecados, siendo a la vez perfectos y también humanos, y, por tanto, el sacrificio perfecto para todos los pecados de la humanidad.

Jesús también fue, como sugería Isaías, un siervo sumamente obediente guiado día a día por el Espíritu de Dios y, en lugar de tener un plan y mantenerse fiel a él, se aferró a la libertad de responder a las necesidades del momento como una señal del amor de Dios sin otra agenda. Es justo decir que Jesús fue evolucionando hacia sí mismo a lo largo de su vida y más allá. Con todo esto en mente, podemos interpretar su profunda identificación con nosotros en todo lo que es humano --- incluyendo su deseo de discernir y llevar a cabo el diseño de Dios en circunstancias imprevisibles.

Recordemos que estamos bautizados en Él, para compartir la gracia de su enfoque hacia la vida. Puede que el Espíritu no descienda sobre nosotros como una paloma, pero ese Espíritu nos permite compartir la libertad de Jesús y amar de las maneras que nuestro momento llama. Para la mayoría de los católicos, bautizados de bebés, este sacramento es fácil de olvidar, trivializar o de ver solo en el pasado, cuando en realidad es algo que estamos invitados a vivir cada día de nuevo. No debemos olvidar que nosotros, como Jesús, somos amados y complacientes para Dios.

Paz, Padre Jim

Niños menores de 18 años no deben quedarse sin supervisión en el Salón Parroquial. Se han roto varios objetos que no pertenecen a la Iglesia, además nuestros baños del pasillo han sido maltratados. Las reparaciones son costosas y la mayoría se pueden evitar. Por favor, trate el Salón Parroquial como trataría su propio hogar. Es un espacio compartido por muchos. Bendiciones.

Levantaos, nobles y campesinos; María invita a todos, ricos y pobres, justos y pecadores, a entrar en la cueva de Belén, a adorar y besar los pies de su hijo recién nacido... Entrémonos; No tengamos miedo." - San Alfonso Ligouri Únase a nosotros para la adoración los viernes de 9am a 8pm en la capilla.
